MIAMI DANCE
CLASSIC

Join us on the 4TH Sunday monthly through the end of the year as the SJO presents the finest artists among South Florida's Jazz vocalists! On October 27th extraordinary Jazz vocalist, Ms. Brenda Alford is our featured artist. Alford has recorded with jazz piano legend Horace Silver and has worked with some of the greatest names in jazz including Pete Minger, Stanley Turrentine, Sonny Stitt, Philly Jo Jones and Ron Carter; November 24th will present an exciting double bill featuring the great Mel Dancy along with rising star, LeNard Rutledge; And on December 22nd we'll be treated to the legendary Diva herself, Ms. Alice Day! SJO's monthly concert series is presented from 4pm-7pm at Avenue D Jazz & Blues Lounge, 8 South Miami Ave., Miami, FL 33130! Tickets $15.00 at door, or in advance contact SunJazzOrg@aol.com. The Sunshine Jazz Concert Series Continues at Avenue D –

Mr. Mel Dancy An accomplished pianist, lyricist, and multi-stylist, Mel Dancy sings Jazz & Blues, Swing & Bossa Nova with the flair and charisma that only the best entertainers possess. Among his many credits, Dancy enjoyed a four year collaboration with The Platters as well as stints at the Village Vanguard with Thad Jones, Mel Lewis, and the New York Jazz Quartet. He also wrote with Dizzy Gillespie, and arranged a tune for the McGuire Sisters called “I Love You for Sentimental Reasons”. (Sunday, November 24th, 4pm-7pm)

Mr. LeNard Rutledge has been compared to the legendary Lou Rawls as well as the great Kevin Mahogany. His classy elegance is permeated by raw passion and influenced by his Overtown church choir background. A song stylist and songwriter, Rutledge spent time in the Melton Mustafa Orchestra, and can go from Blues to Mainstream to Big Band to Nu Jazz and beyond! (Sunday, November 24th, 4pm-7pm)

Ms. Alice Day Affectionately known as “The First Lady of Jazz”, Alice is in demand at top jazz venues around the world and regularly tours in Switzerland, Italy, Germany, France and Austria. Born into the extraordinary musical tradition of gospel, Alice has committed her life to music. Drawing inspiration from the greats such as Dinah Washington, Billie Holiday and Mahalia Jackson, Alice created her own distinctive style and is acknowledged as one of the finest jazz vocalist performing today. Her outstanding contribution to music has been honored and she is the recipient of numerous awards. (Sunday, December 22nd, 4pm-7pm)

Avenue D Jazz and Blues Lounge is located at 8 South Miami Avenue, Miami, FL 33131 (305)377-8899. Just one block south of the corner of Miami Avenue & Flagler (across from Macy’s). Enjoy a variety of seating with tables and lounge groupings, two cash bars, and a light menu. Street and valet parking are available. For venue info and directions: http://www.avenuedjazz.com/Avenue_D/Contact_Location.html

Sunshine Jazz Organization’s programs are presented with the support of The Miami-Dade County Department of Cultural Affairs, The Cultural Affairs Council, The Miami-Dade County Mayor and The Board of County Commissioners.

It Happened Again

By Alice Day

Not the fact that the SJO celebrated another anniversary (that will happen once a year), but the fact that we brought these guys together again. If you remember, The Billy Marcus Quartet was inducted into the South Florida Jazz Hall of Fame in 2011, which was the first time in about 30 years they had performed together. This time however, it wasn’t the quartet with Eric Allison (he couldn’t make it), but it was the trio with a very special guest, Ms. Sandy Patton.

The suspense and anticipation started to heighten the night before, Friday. As it was an anniversary, the event took place on Saturday nite. Mel Dancy and I just happened to be hangin’ out (actually Mel was working) at another new spot, Le Chat Noir, next door to Avenue D, when we sort of recognized the gentleman approaching. It was Gary Duchaine, the drummer. He had arrived earlier that day from the D.C. area, and was checking out the neighborhood. Needless to say, the party started. We had a great nite reminiscing and listening to the music. That was the beginning. By the next afternoon, Saturday, calls were coming in from all over the place, as far away as West Palm inquiring about the reunion. Billy had arrived on Friday afternoon, and after the drive from Central Florida, thought it best to chill and prepare for the explosion on Saturday night. Donald arrived at the venue from Ft. Lauderdale on the day, ready, willing, and able. Sandy, on the other hand, had arrived from Switzerland around 2PM that afternoon, and here she is walking in the door, or floating in on a cloud, totally energized and glowing.

Of course the room was filled with anticipation but, by this time, it was also filling up with folks... family, friends and fans, coming to check it out, the whole scene, some even came for the music. The Trio took the stage first- and as we strolled down memory lane they had folks dancing in the aisles. These guys were phenomenal. They never missed a beat, and it was like they had played together just the day before. They were all hyped. Not just about the gig, but about being here, about the vibe, and hyped about being reconnected, if only for a moment.

Ladies and gentlemen this was also evident in the performance of Ms. Sandy Patton. If you recall, Sandy was a featured vocalist with the Quartet back in the day, and for years it has been her wish to come back to Miami and feel the warmth of "down home". Her original composition "My Friend Joan" was written for and about four South Florida women who share the name "Joan" and, as two of them were in the house, it was an especially touching moment. She scatted her way thru some familiar standards and had the house in tears on others. Sandy was in rare form that day, and she was ready for the Billy Marcus Trio and the demands from the house.

To continue...I neglected to inform you of our other "special guests". On the scene and sharing the stage was Mel Dancy who treated us to a version of what has become his signature tune "Miami Miami". This, as you know, is an original composition, and has been adopted by Avenue D as "their" song. We're still waiting for the City to adopt this as one of the official tunes for the "Magic City". More icing on the cake was the appearance of the "Brothers 2", Jesse Jones and Melton Mustafa. Being in rare form just doesn't seem to fit them anymore. As Usual, they were awesome. We are all aware of Melton's medical condition, so it was especially poignant to see (and hear) this man in action. You should have been there. And if you were there, you know that this was a most memorable evening. Thank you for being part of the 27th ANNIVERSARY CELEBRATION OF THE SUNSHINE JAZZ ORGANIZATION
