SJO’s Silver Anniversary Celebration Met All Expectations!
Twenty-five years of love and jazz came together with seamless beauty as SJO members, musicians, dignitaries, friends and fans filled the Joseph Caleb Auditorium on September 15th to celebrate the milestone moment for South Florida’s oldest jazz organization. An elegant cocktail reception greeted guests in the theatre’s foyer, decorated with dozens of red roses and large black & white framed jazz photos accompanied by guitarist Eddy Balzola’s soulful music. Wine and a variety of fabulous catered foods were offered followed by a huge 25th anniversary cake, but the real sweets started on stage just after 8pm as three divine songbirds were introduced by the evening’s esteemed emcee hosts, Ms. Tracy Fields and Mr. Len Pace. SJO’s 25th Anniversary continued…
Ms. Alice Day, Ms. Yvonne Brown and Ms. Brenda Alford shared songs and words, backed by an amazing ensemble including Rick Doll on bass, James Cotman on drums, and Miguel De La Cerna (Ms. Day’s band mate from Chicago) on piano. They were absolutely magnificent as they opened the evening with deeply touching music and personal reflections on many shared SJO moments. Their finale honored dear friend and colleague, Chief Sandrell Rivers, backed by a beautiful video photo montage tribute. The Divas totally penetrated every heart in the audience.

Following the fabulous opening set was a Proclamation presented by Vice Chairwoman District 3, Audrey Edmonson on behalf of the Miami-Dade Board of County Commissioners. It stated that “September 15th, 2012 is proclaimed Sunshine Jazz Organization’s 25th Anniversary Day”! SJO Board Members, along with President Emeritus China Valles and Thelma Valles, filed on stage to accept the great honor. A brief intermission was followed by VIP Awards honoring Melton Mustafa along with Bernadine Bush, Tracy Fields, Vice Chairwoman Audrey M. Edmonson, Len Pace and Holly Spillane.

At this juncture of the evening, Miami’s spectacular Melton Mustafa Orchestra with its 17 members took the stage in full force! Maestro trumpeter Mr. Mustafa was in top form, full of wit, soul and appreciation for the occasion. It was evident he felt great as he led his extraordinary group of top notch players, joined by brother Jesse Jones, Jr. and son Melton Rahsaan Mustafa. The band was tight and so cool as they ran through original and classic songbooks. Then, an awaited highlight of the evening was the sassy and swinging addition of Mr. Allan Harris! Voice, charm and soul to boot, Harris traveled from Harlem to Miami just for this special tribute and was the icing on the 25th Anniversary Cake! Truly a fabulous celebration for SJO’s quarter century of Jazz.

Mourning in Miami
Big Poppa ‘E’

It was a Sunday evening when a crowd gathered at the Stage nightclub in Miami. Friends and musicians came to pay their respects to our fallen blues brother Musi, “Big Poppa E” Faisal, who died suddenly after suffering a heart attack. He was 64 years old.

Musi took up the harmonica as a teen. “I got hooked on the mouth organ after hearing Sonny Terry and Brownie McGee play,” he told me. Actually, he started his career as a percussionist with Hodges, James & Smith back in the early 70s. He continued playing backup for R&B legends Ike & Tina Turner, folk artist John Prine, avant garde saxophonist Joseph Jarman, soul pop legend Bill Withers, and at Sussex Records with Bobbi Hall.

Fortunately, he had a good ear for music, which enabled him to learn several other instruments, including the guitar. Poppa played anywhere between four and six gigs a week, from Key West to Palm Beach, even on Calle Óche in the heart of Little Havana. That’s where I found Big Poppa E and his band jamming last year. “Blues can happen anywhere,” he exclaimed, “even here at this Cuban ‘Casa Panza.’”

He introduced some of his band mates as his white brothers. “You don’t have to be black to play the blues,” he opined. As a matter of fact, he and Jerry Lane of West Court Island records co-wrote a blues hit called “White Men Can Play the Blues.”

Interspersed with his busy performance schedule, Poppa ran his own “Black Owl Music” record label. The year 2006 was good, with three albums released. His song “Terraplane” was nominated as Blues Song of the Year by the International Academy of Independent Artists

Big Poppa E and the E Band had a steady Monday night gig at Tobacco Road. On Monday, Sept. 3rd, Saxophonist Felipe Lamoglia, trumpeter Jowee Omicil, and guitarist Papa Joe of the E Band, played a final session as a tribute to their fallen leader. At the Stage nightclub, the tribute to the life and music of Big Poppa E took place on Sept. 23rd. Several bands signed up to perform. However, time constraints allowed only blues bands - Iko Iko with singer/fiddler Nicole Yarling, Electric Piquette, and the Nil Lara Band to play.

The funeral was held on August 30 at the Muslim Cemetery of South Florida in Hialeah Gardens.

“Swing low, sweet chariot, waiting for to carry ‘you’ home”.

Celebrating the Lives of Ingrid and Jaco Pastorius, Sunday Dec. 2nd

Elizabeth Ingrid Horn-Muller married Grammy Award winning South Florida Jazz Hall of Famer, electric bass virtuoso and innovator, composer and legend, Jaco Pastorius, in 1978. The charismatic couple traveled the world as he toured and recorded with seminal groups including Joni Mitchell, and Weather Report with Wayne Shorter and Joe Zawinul. They had twin sons, Julius and Felix, before his untimely death by a beating in 1987, and since then Ingrid has been tireless in her activism and support of music, art, youth, education, health, nature, their children, jazz and Jaco’s artistic legacy.

In the last two decades she had spearheaded several causes including the naming of “Jaco Pastorius Park” in his childhood Oakland Park Ft. Lauderdale neighborhood, music in schools initiatives and, along with her musician sons, presented an annual celebration of Jaco’s December 1st birthday, with musical events held in South Florida plus NYC. Tragically, Ingrid passed away suddenly on November 28th, 2011 just two days before the annual Jaco Celebration, as musicians from near and far were flying in to participate in the concerts. As hundreds turned out to mourn her on that same Sunday afternoon in the garden of their Deerfield Beach home, the family decided to carry on. The “celebration” planned for that evening turned into a grand memorial for Ingrid and a deeply moving tribute to her and to Jaco.

Jazz DJ, Stu Grant, Remembers Mentor/ Dad, Alan Grant

Alan Grant, world famous jazz DJ, producer and musician, passed away (October 12th, 2012) after an amazing 93 years on earth. After buying his first saxophone as a teenager in Brooklyn with money won from a craps game, he went on to play in the Army band in WWII, fought in the Battle of the Bulge, was an Honor Guard for General Patton’s funeral and later became an iconic jazz disc jockey who basically brought jazz music to the masses in the 1950s and 60s.
As the founder of the WABC New York "Portraits in Jazz" radio show, and producing live recordings from Half Note and Birdland he came to know ALL of the leading names in jazz. He hosted a Friday night show at the Village Vanguard club in New York City where every jazz musician that even sort of mattered played on a regular basis.

He was friendly with Miles Davis, Thelonious Monk, Charlie Parker, Billy Holiday, Stan Getz, Duke Ellington, John Coltrane, Wes Montgomery and just about anyone else who was involved in Jazz between the 1950s and 1990s. He later spent over 15 years in Las Vegas, hosting shows that broadcast live jazz to over 150 public radio stations worldwide bringing the best talent known to America's desert playground.

On top of his amazing professional career which took him from NYC to Las Vegas to Miami to New Zealand, he loved his eccentric New Zealand-born wife, Gigi, and his four children, all of whom became artists to some way or another- three directly in jazz music! His son, Stu Grant, a jazz fixture here in South Florida since 1972 has his dearly beloved father Alan to thank for turning him on to America's true art form and will always remember being at some of those monumental jazz moments in New York during a groundbreaking period for many jazz greats. Dad, I'll miss more than you know but you'll always be in my heart... All my love always! – Stu (Jazzyguy1948@aol.com)
